
The Best Opportunity

Thomas H. Woo

Recently, an animal behavior psychologist conducted an experiment with a bunch of adult flies confined in a closed jar. After the flies were kept in a closed jar for a while, the psychologist opened the jar. Only a few of the flies took advantage of the opened jar and flew away. The rest of them remained stationary and did not even try to fly away. The psychologist's conclusion was that the vast majority of the flies accepted the jar as their confinement.

In a way, we human beings behave like these flies. We accept our lives of confinement and speak of fate or predicament. However, unlike the flies, human beings have the best brains and possess souls. We are at the very top of the animal kingdom. We should not resign ourselves to whatever stage and status of life we are in. We can change that and take advantage of the "opened jar" presented to our lives.

The "opened jar" for us all is Jesus Christ. He always presents the best opportunities for salvation, growth, and freedom! When we accept Him and follow Him, we will definitely get away from life's "jar." He brings us nothing but joy, even in the midst of boredom or trials!

What is your choice? Accept Him or life's confinement. The choice is yours alone!

Answers for October's Bible puzzle :

Mark, Luke, Kings, Acts, Revelation, James, Ruth, Numbers, Job, Amos, Esther, Judges, Titus, Lamentations, Hebrews, Peter.